

Recommended Recording Tools

If you are already comfortable recording video/screencasts:

If you already have a recording or screen casting tool you are comfortable with, we recommend continuing to use that, so long as you can export MP4 files with that tool.

If you are not already recording videos/screencasts:

WE RECOMMEND USING ONE OF THE FOLLOWING OPTIONS:

- Webex, Google Meet – You can host a single person “meeting,” record yourself and share your screen.
- Screencastify – You can record your voice, screen or self. The free version allows you to record up to five minutes of video per clip and is stored in your Google Drive.

For help troubleshooting these platforms, please contact elarning@neric.org

There are additional video recording/editing options if you are familiar with them, including:

- Adobe Spark
- iMovie
- PowerPoint
- Windows 10 Camera App
- Smart Phone Camera App
- iMovie Airbook Camera

Due to limited technical/troubleshooting support for these options, we don't recommend using them, unless you are proficient and able to export the MP4 file.
